Project Description

This unique single family home is nestled into the picturesque countryside of the beautiful Ozark hills. Dubbed "The Modern Silo" by builder Monticello Homes & Development, this home truly showcases country meets high-design. A galvanized grain silo is the focal point of the house, which adds modern flair to the design and centralizes the home.

With both homeowners being designers, high-end touches are prominent throughout the house. From a galvanized-clad spiral staircase to the backsplash with a ribbon of randomly placed nickels, this modern marvel offers many unique design features.

The living space extends outside with two covered porches and several patios accessible through any of the six Pinnacle patio doors. This layout grants access to multiple outdoor areas for enjoying beautiful views of the natural Ozark hills scenery.

Unique Requirements/Solutions

With the focal point of the home being a round, galvanized grain silo, it was a challenge for the builder and installer to devise a weatherproof and aesthetically pleasing plan of installing flat windows into a curved wall. To accomplish this task, they created extended window bucks that reached beyond the curve to allow for the windows to be installed onto a flat surface. The window bucks were then flashed in a bronze metal to protect the buck and fully flash the window, while still complementing the look of the galvanized silo.

Each window and door was strategically placed into the home's design to allow unobstructed views of the natural beauty outdoors and offer full southern exposure where possible.
